Happy July! As you know, Baden Outlook doesn't usually publish a July paper. Well, with Katie at the wheel, I can do whatever my heart desires. And you know what my heart desires? Making people happy through play and my hometown, Baden!

Surprise!! I've come up with a secret "Games Edition" to be distributed exclusively to those in Baden who inspired us to create our feel-good paper 24 years ago!

I absolutely love playing. All play such as board games, card games, dice games, brain teasers, sports, and jigsaw puzzles. My dad and I both love Penny Press books filled with assortments of different puzzles to fill in with a pen, which is what inspired me to create these puzzles. It is a hobby we both share and I thought, why not bring more fun to the paper! Take this paper to the cottage, camping, road tripping, or backyard while lounging. I encourage you to take your board games to the park, find some shade, and have a little play!

If you enjoyed a particular game and would love to see it in future issues, please head to our Facebook page, "Baden Outlook" and let us know which games you enjoyed! See you in August!!
-Katie

BADEN SCAVENGER HUNT!

Looking for something to do this summer? Mayor Natasha Salonen has a walking scavenger hunt for you!

Put the coordinates below into your Google Maps or Apple Maps on your phone. Head to the drop point and look for your next set of coordinates! There are clues on the cards hidden with the coordinates to direct your search. Write down the locations as you find them below!

There will be a prize at the end for the first 15 people who complete the blanks. Bring your paper with you to claim your prize! Your first clue, "Forrest Gump sat on a _____ to eat his box of chocolates."

- First coordinate    43.403678, -80.670849
- Second location    _____
- Third location     _____
- Fourth location    _____
- Fifth location      _____
- Prize location     _____

Thank you to all the advertisers in this issue who helped fund this Games Edition. You will find even some advertisers are playful and created games! It is a blessing to have such loyal businesses within our community! Please Support Local

A big shout out and thank you to Mrs. Moore's grade three class who acted as Junior Editors of the Outlook Games Edition!

You Must Be Joking!!

A man went to visit a friend and was amazed to find him playing chess with his dog. He watched the game in astonishment for a while. "I can hardly believe my eyes!" he exclaimed. "That's the smartest dog I've ever seen."
"Nah, he's not so smart," the friend replied. "I've beaten him three games out of five."

Checking out the Baden Library

Feeling bored this summer? We've got a game for that.

We know that Badenites love to play board games! In 2023, 174 games circulated from the Baden Library to households here in town.

For those who are not already in on the action, you can use your Region of Waterloo Library membership to try out a board game! With 130 board games in our collection, there are lots from which to choose. Classics like Scrabble, Clue, and Rummikub; to newer games like Sloth in a Hurry and Taco Cat Goat Cheese Pizza.

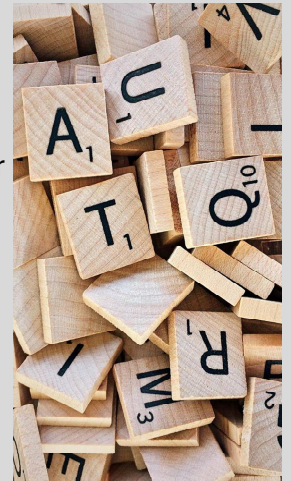

We have games for younger players such as Chicken Cha Cha Cha and Pengoloo; games you might have been thinking about purchasing, but wanted to try out before you invest - like Wingspan, Root, or Mansions of Madness. There are games you can count on for hours of fun - such as Terraforming Mars, as well as games that can be enjoyed in half an hour - Azul or Dominion. And, we've got lots of card games that you can easily take with you on your summer travels - Dutch Blitz, Play Nine, L.L.A.M.A, and Anomia, to name a few!

With the long summer evenings upon us, board games make a great way to wind down and enjoy some family time together - inside or out! With a 3-week loan, you can take them with you to the cottage or camping.

View the complete collection and place a hold on our website: www.rwlibrary.ca.

How Many Words Can You Find???

Boggle is one of my all-time favourite games! You can only use each letter once per word, all letters must be adjacent to each other, and words need to be at least 3 letters long. Grab a piece of paper, a pencil, and see how many words you can find!

Can you beat my score of 76 words?

Compound Commons Answers page 17

Find the missing word that connects all these items. The missing word can go either at the start or end of these clues. Here is an example to get you started!

- |          |       |       |       |
|----------|-------|-------|-------|
| 1. SOIL  | HAT   | HEAVY | _____ |

Game play instructions:

Select a clue from the 'across' or 'down' lists. Think of answers to possible clues. Place your possible answer into the corresponding number using a pencil, putting one letter in each square. Continue putting answers until the grid is full. If an answer doesn't fit, look back to see where you went wrong! Make sure to be mindful of across versus down! Have fun!

Did you know?? History of Monopoly

1903: Lizzie Magie applies for a patent for The Landlord's Game, which eventually became the inspiration behind Monopoly. She created the game to demonstrate the effects of rent on property owners and tenants.

1904: The patent for The Landlord's Game is granted.

1906: Magie begins publishing the game through the Economic Game Company.

1924: A second patent for The Landlord's Game is granted.

1932: Charles Darrow played The Landlord's Game and decided to make his own version, adapting the rules.

1934: He began marketing and distributing the board game under the title of Monopoly.

1935: Parker Brothers negotiate rights to mass-produce Darrow's version and also purchased Magie's patent for $500, the equivalent of around $11,120 in 2024.

1936: Twenty-thousand Monopoly sets are produced each week and it becomes the best-selling board game in the US for the year.

Did You Know?? History of the game Battleship

Battleship was originally a pad-and-pencil public domain game dating back as early as World War I. By 1931, a patented preprinted paper game was created and was known as Salvo. In 1967, Milton Bradley introduced the game we are familiar with today that includes plastic ships and peg boards. There have been many versions released in the last 50 years including, Electronic Battleship, Electronic Talking Battleship, Battleship Islands, and many computer and video games too! "You sunk my battleship!"

Did You Know?? History of Yahtzee

Although dice games have been around for centuries, a wealthy Canadian couple cruising around on their yacht updated and revised a Tibetan dice game making it more modern. The couple called it, "Yacht Game" or "Yacht at Sea Game" eventually formulating into the name Yahtzee. The Canadian couple approached Edwin S. Lowe, a board game maker, and sold their rights to the game in trade for the first 1,000 games produced. They sold and gave those copies to friends and family who enjoyed playing with them over the years on their yacht.

The TCMH Corner: Resident Perspectives

We thought this special Games Edition of the Outlook needed a TCMH Resident feature from someone who likes to have fun and play with things. Enter Brian Smithers, Aldaview Services resident since May 2011. He's a quiet fellow who likes to have coffee with his friends, tell the odd joke, and work with his hands. He might not like boardgames or word searches, but he loves tinkering, being creative, and making models. And he was more than happy to sit down and tell us about his hobbies.

does not like getting sun in his eyes. And he really doesn't like to sweat. So, many a sunny summer's day, Brian is found sitting in a cool patch of shade just outside his apartment. This summer Brian hopes to get out and do things with his family, but he is not looking forward to visiting parks. Maybe Brian doesn't like parks because they are full of grass – he didn't say. But he did mention he used to have to mow the lawn with his brother a lot which might have changed Brian's opinion of large grassy areas.

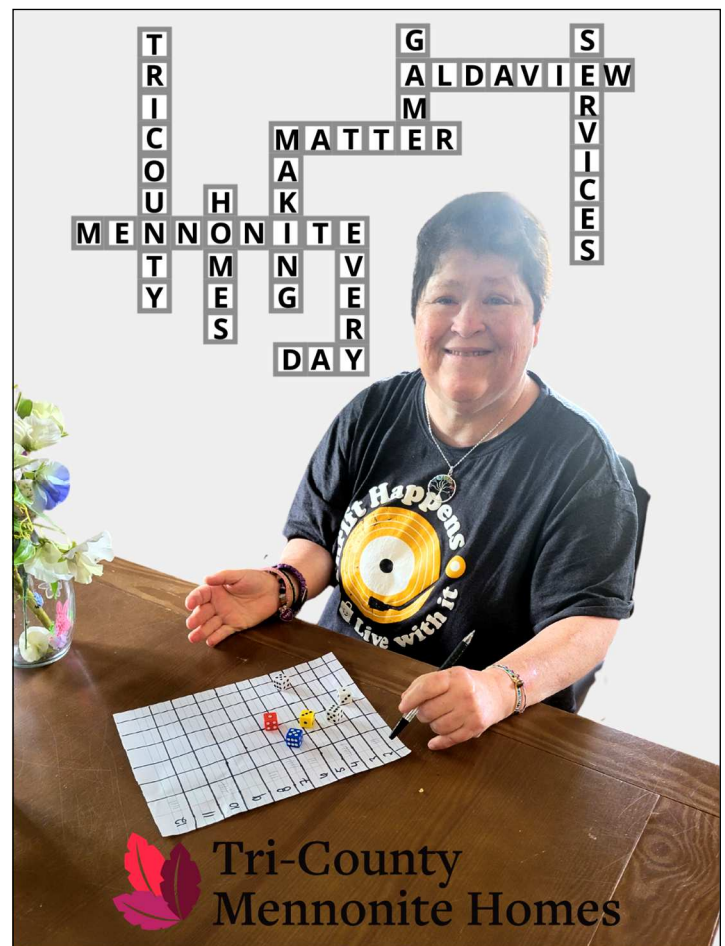

Brian's first love is for tinkering. He started taking things apart when he was around five or six years old. The first thing he remembers taking apart was his foster-brother's tractor, but he didn't stop there. Over the years, Brian has taken many things apart – much to his satisfaction. Toasters, electronics, and gadgets of all kinds have all met their demise at Brian's hand. He isn't too worried about whether the thing will go back together afterwards. Taking it apart is the real fun. He tugs, he pries, and he pulls things apart so he can see the insides. "See the guts," as Brian says it. But Brian knows all that pulling and prying means those things never go back together again.

Instead, when he wants to put things together, Brian turns to his second love, making models. He started working on models just a few years ago. His favourite is the Dukes of Hazard car (the General Lee), and he has painted two model cars in that style. His suggestion for anyone interested in making models is to just go out and buy one, then make it, and most importantly, paint it! Sounds simple! But Brian cautions: you have to have good eyes and make sure the model has good parts. Otherwise, making models is not so easy.

When Brian is finished making a model, it lives on a shelf in his room. When he gets tired of the way the model looks, he takes it down and paints it anew, making sure they always look just the way he likes. Sometimes Brian's worker, Lizzie, helps him to put the pieces together. He likes when Lizzie helps, but he doesn't think making models is too hard. In fact, he has his eye on making bigger models in the future. He figures most models take him about a month to put together and paint, so something larger would take him longer. Brian likes that idea!

When Brian isn't indoors making models or taking things apart, he likes to be outside. Especially during summer. His favourite part about summer is the sunshine, however he

As a fun final question, we wanted to know what Brian would do this summer if he won a million dollars. His answer? Work! But not to work just anywhere. He would buy a junk yard or a car shop so he could take cars apart all summer long. How very Brian! So long as his hands are busy taking things apart, or putting models together, he's content. From all of us at TCMH, here's hoping each of you can also spend your summer doing the things you love.
